Subject: FW: Will need to extend the comment period one week for Anaconda and Freeman

FYI – There was a copyright symbol on one of the Bing maps that we used. It was flagged as a potential copyright issue by regulations.gov. EPA has an agency wide license to use Bing maps, so it is not a copyright issue, but it did take some time to sort out. We have provided the maps for review with all of the other HRS documentation at the regional and local information repository.

Due to the delay, HQ is extending the close of the CFAC comment period to June 2.

Let me know if you have questions.

Thanks,
Rob

For Grain Handling Facility at Freeman and Anaconda Aluminum Co Columbia Falls Reduction Plant, some of the maps included in the doc records have the copyright symbol. The docket at www.regulations.gov will not accept/post any documents with the copyright symbol. It took us a few days to work out how to deal with it and, in the meantime, the doc records were not available in the docket. On March 26, the first day of the comment period, we received the following comment. The comment was submitted to the Freeman docket number but references the Anaconda docket number within the comment itself:

Comment

Supporting information for docket EPAHQSFUND20150139 is not online! Comment period should be extended for the lapse between posting the information and the FR publication date.

Due May 26 2015, at 11:59

The doc records minus the copyrighted maps were finally posted to www.regulations.gov today.

Regions 8 and 10 do not need to do anything, but I wanted you to be aware that I am having the docket extend the comment period. It will now end on June 2 instead of May 26. The new comment period end date will show up when people are submitting comments via regulations.gov.

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thanks.
